NUMB. 3016

TUESDAY, APRIL 23, 1745.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Stockholm, April 13.

Count Henning de Gyllenbourg is lately arrived here from Petersbourg, whither he was sent to learn the true Sentiments of that Court, in relation to the present State of Affairs in Europe. He has had several Conferences with the Ministry since his Arrival, in which he has communicated the Nations of the Russian Ministry, as to the manner in which they ought to be pursued by both Nations; to which, all that we can at present learn, is that the Russian is by no means inclined to enter on any War, or into any new Engagements; from which we infer, that the Negotiations of the Prussian here will proceed but slowly; the rather, it is very certain that there is at present some difference between the Courts of Berlin and Petersburg, as it is said, by the Minister of the former, that he should assist the Queen of Hungary in attacking Silesia, his Master should expect that the Czars will execute her Guaranty; to which the Chancellor of Russia, that it did not appear to him that his Majesty had any Reason to expect this, since Hungary's attacking Silesia was not proper, offensive War, but rather an offensive Act, necessary to her own Defence; since it was very natural to transfer the Scene of War into another Country, rather than expect it in their own; and that they were not understood in this Sense, inclining to promote Peace and Security, they become the Source of endless Quarrels and Difficulties further observed, that her Imperial Majesty's Mediation for composing the Differences between the Courts of Vienna and Berlin, and the consequence of his Prussian Majesty's Application, therefore it was very unjust to expect the same from them. The Conduct of the Ministry is highly applauded here; and will, very probably, serve as a Model for our

April 13. The Austrian Army decamped from the 7th, and are at present encamp'd in the neighbourhood of Final, in the Modena. The Spanish arriv'd soon after in our Neighbourhood; on the 10th they were review'd by the Duke of Modena, the next Morning their Army pass'd Castel Franco, and they will pass the Panaro. We apprehend they will leave Modena behind them, and will continue their march through the Parmosian and Plaisantin dioceses. There is no sort of Doubt that all this march with the Genoeze. The City of Modena is very strong, and there is not so much as an Austrian in it; but there are four Piedmontese Battalions in the Citadel, which is provided with every necessary for a long Defence. When the Allies leave the Panaro, about 500 Warriours advanc'd, and regular Discharges, and then retir'd with great Expedition, and yet in the most exact Order to the Austrian Camp. As to the Strength of these, it is very certain that the Austrians are not so strong, and that the Allies have 22,000 according to their present Position, it cannot be otherwise we have the News of an Action.

April 15. There is arriv'd here in Nine Days a Packet Boat, the Master of which has left Admiral Rowley in the Road with the Fleet, and that he was to sail the next Day for Provence. There arriv'd a few Days ago a French 17 Vessels, having on board Troops, and Provisions for the Army of Don Philips; but we just now receiv'd Advice that four English Frigates, and four French, and many more, and several Barks laden with Provisions, and for the same Army. Our Troops are all ready to be put in support of our Neutrality; but it is a suspicious Circumstance, that the last day we pay to our Officers and Soldiers was in good money.

April 15. We do not find that the News of the Prince of Conti's reaching the Army, or the French Regiments that had pass'd the Rhine at Mentz, having made the Tour of Mentz, repass'd that in a Strain of Military Politicks no body here understands. The Peace between the Queen of Hungary and the Elector of Bavaria, which was concluded on the 20th, was sign'd and ratified by the Elector on the 21st. We do not know exactly what the Terms of this Accommodation may be; but we know that the Terms offer'd by the Queen were these. I. That the Elector should renounce his Alliance with France, and the Union concluded here. II. That he should likewise renounce his Pretensions to the Anterior Austria. III. That the Austrians should be left in Possession of the Towns of Braunau, Ingoldstadt, and Searding, till the Conclusion of a general Peace. IV. That he shall likewise renounce all Pretensions on the Austrian Succession. V. That he shall never hereafter take the Title of Arch-Duke. VI. That he shall contribute all he can to restoring the Activity of the Electoral Voice of Bohemia. VII. That he shall give his Vote for the Grand Duke of Tuscany at the ensuing Election. It is said the Elector express'd great Reluctance towards the Four last Articles. Tho' the French have been content to leave their Baggage and Artillery behind them, yet they find it extremely difficult to get out of Bavaria, the Roads of which Country are strew'd with dead Bodies; and this Moment we have Advice, that the Austrians have come up with them at Erlingen, and have kill'd, or taken Prisoners, all the Remains of them.

Hague, April 30. As the Union of Frankfort is entirely dissolved, there seems to be no doubt that the Face of Affairs in Germany will be quickly chang'd; the Austrians having nothing more to do on the Danube, will immediately march to scour the Rhine, the Main, and the Lahn; and that the French Army in that Neighbourhood would retire to Worms, in order to avoid being put between two Fires. According to our last Advice from the Austrian Low Countries, the French are in perpetual Motion; some of their Squadrons appeared lately under the Cannon of Mons; but on the 24th they mov'd towards Tournay. The same Advice say, that they are not in much Pain about either of the Places, both being so extremely well provided, that it will be no easy Matter for the French to succeed in their Design.

I R E L A N D.

Lisburn, April 8. The Assizes for the County of Antrim held at Carrickfergus ended last Thursday, where Six Persons were capitally convicted of Burglaries and Felonies, and one Johnston, a Butcher, for Murder. All Kinds of Provisions are sold here at the highest Prices, the Cattle dying for want of Fodder; and the Spring is very backward, which makes every Thing worse. Mr. O'Neill, of Shanes Castle, ordered his Steward to distribute, among the poorest of his Tenants, 40 Tons of Hay, as a most seasonable Help to support their weak Cattle. An Example worthy of Imitation, but few have it in their Power to do the like, Hay being prodigiously scarce in this Country.

Dublin, April 13. By Yesterday's Letters we have an Account, that the Shoreham Privateer brought a French Privateer into Kinsale last Monday.

To-morrow the Dublin Privateer, which is very well Mann'd, and provided with all Necessaries, will sail from Cork on a Cruise.

We hear, that the Proprietors of the Boyne Privateer have sent to England for another, much larger; which two Ships will sail together.

Last Wednesday Evening died Robert Hawkins Magill, Esq; Knight of the Shire for the County of Down; a Gentleman of universal good Character, being the best Husband, the kindest Father, the sincerest Friend, the greatest Improver, and the most charitable to all Degrees of People. Mr. Ward, Son to the Hon. Mr. Justice Ward, Sir John Rawdon, and Matthew Forde, Esq; stand Candidates for the County, to represent him in Parliament.

C O U N T R Y N E W S.

Bristol, April 20. The Portsmouth is ordered round to Plymouth, there to be clean'd, and then to proceed on a Cruise to the Western Islands; but our Merchants have petitioned the Lords of the Admiralty for her going one Voyage more with the Fleet from hence, and to have a larger Ship on this Station.

The Wind having been fair for some Days, several of the Privateers mentioned in our last are gone on their respective Cruises; and the rest are in a hurry to follow them. The Rover Privateer, on Thursday Morning, in falling down the River, run on Wapping Slip, just after she came out of the Dock, and was in great Danger of oversetting; but got off the next Tide, and is gone to Kingroad. She has divers long Swivel Muskets, such as the Wall-Pieces at Gibraltar, so level as Engineers, that will carry a Ball two Miles.

L O N D O N.

They write from Brussels, of the 19th, that Tournay was invested the Day before by the French Army; and that the French King was expected in the Camp on the 24th of May. The same Letters say, that the Army of the Allies will immediately assemble at Anderlecht, and march from thence to fight the French.

They write from Dusseldorp, that the Elector of Bavaria made the strongest Instances, in order to engage the Court of Vienna to include the Elector Palatine in the Neutrality, but without Effect; so that the Palatine Troops are march'd off with the French. Those Letters likewise say, that by a secret Article of the Treaty lately concluded, the Bavarian Troops are to enter into the Rhy of the Maritime Powers; in Consideration of which, his Electoral Highness is annually to receive a Subsidy of Two Millions and a half of Rex Dollars.

Our last Letters from Augsburg say, that in the last Action at Pfaffenhofen, the Allies lost 5000 Men, and Four General Officers made Prisoners; most of the Baggage, 12 Pieces of Cannon, and 35 Waggon's laden with Ammunition, fell into the Hands of the Victors, which did not hinder the Hussars, and other Light-arm'd Troops, from pursuing them towards Donawert, near which they defeated them a second Time.

The James Frigate, Gowland, from Gibraltar for London, is lost at Gibraltar.

The Penelope, Kelter, from St. Kitts for London, is put into St. Thomas's, where she is condemn'd.

The Mount Pleasant, Bromage, from Nevis for London, is taken, and carried into Porto Rico.
